

Ending the Grammar of Schooling

Excellent Educator, 3(1), 8, 2026

Academic Insights

- AI debates often reinforce traditional schooling structures.
- Personalized learning is frequently misused to support uniform outcomes.
- True personalization develops individual strengths and passions.
- AI enables problem-oriented, student-driven learning models.
- Curriculum standardization limits AI's transformative potential.
- Education must shift from compliance to creativity.

Apply This Now

- Use AI to support student-chosen problems, not preset tasks.
- Redefine success beyond standardized outcomes.
- Encourage diverse learning pathways.

Add This in Your Lesson

Let students design a learning goal AI helps them pursue.

Avoid This Mistake

Using AI to optimize outdated schooling models.

Keywords

Education reform; Personalized learning; AI and schooling; Curriculum; Student agency

Reference

Zhao, Y. (2025). Artificial intelligence and education: End the grammar of schooling. ECNU Review of Education, 8(1), 3–20. <https://doi.org/10.1177/20965311241265124>

Suggested Citation

Ross, E., & Malar, D. B. J. (2026). Ending the Grammar of Schooling. Excellent Educator, 3(1), 8.